[26] StefanGarcia (Male): "You hungry? We got canid ribs. Canid flank. Canid snout, too."
[2] StefanGarcia (Male): "Something I can help you with?"
[9] Player: "I'm told one of your number's gone missing."
[31] Player: "What are you selling?"
[32] StefanGarcia (Male): "Fresh off the limb! And that includes canid meat."
[10] StefanGarcia (Male): "You mean Zoe? Yeah, we were pretty close. Not like her to go loping off."
[13] Player: "What happened on the day Zoe disappeared?"
[17] Player: "Tell me a little about Zoe."
[14] Player: "Was she acting strange before she disappeared?"
[20] Player: "What was that about surprising Zoe?"
[15] Player: "Hold on. There was something else."
[5] Player: "See you around."
[12] StefanGarcia (Male): "Zoe and I were gonna watch the serials, as is our custom. She never turned up. I looked around, but she was nowhere to be found."
[18] StefanGarcia (Male): "Zoe was always obsessed with this serial. Masked Marketeer. A scion of Byzantium turns to banditry, and teaches his marauder companions the wisdom of free market economics."
[11] StefanGarcia (Male): "Can't say I recall Zoe ever acting strange. Well, except for her habit of writing things down on scraps of paper. "
[21] StefanGarcia (Male): "The other day I got my hands on a genuine copy of the latest Masked Marketeer. I was gonna surprise Zoe with it, but she was gone the next day."
[16] StefanGarcia (Male): "Hey, I got time."
[19] StefanGarcia (Male): "Shame she up and vanished when she did. I had a surprise lined up for her."
[30] StefanGarcia (Male): "She called it "journaling," but I think it's just plain odd. "
[29] StefanGarcia (Male): "You sound like some type of corporate fixer, asking all these questions."