[203] Lillian (Female): "Hey there. You the fella Cass called about?"
[204] Player: "You're part of her group?"
[205] Player: "Who's asking?"
[206] Player: "She didn't mention having anyone out here."
[210] Lillian (Female): "That I am. Got left out here to watch for reinforcements. Name's Lillian."
[209] Lillian (Female): "Relax, I ain't with Auntie. I'm one of Cassandra's gunhands. Name's Lillian."
[207] Lillian (Female): "I was left out here as a picket. Name's Lillian."
[208] Lillian (Female): "Hope you're having a better time than us."
[211] Player: "Cassandra's kind of a hard case, isn't she?"
[20] Lillian (Female): "Definitely got something large and uncomfortably-shaped up her nethers. Yammering on about rights and privileges and whatall. I'm like, "Lady, just sing out when you want something shot.""
[22] Lillian (Female): "Leastways her pamphlets make good kindling."
[34] Player: "Bad day, huh?"
[37] Lillian (Female): "I've had better. Lost some things in a dust up. But I didn't get eaten like some of our crew. Got that going for me."
[96] Player: "I'm sorry. Were they friends of yours?"
[40] Player: "What'd you lose?"
[41] Player: ""So long as you've got your health...""
[97] Lillian (Female): "Some of them were okay. You don't get too close in this work. And Dylan, well, ain't no one gonna regret his passing. Least of all his mama."
[43] Lillian (Female): "My damn cigarettes for one thing."
[48] Lillian (Female): "My dad used to say that, 'fore he "left the workforce.""
[49] Lillian (Female): "I was near the raptidon pen when they got loose. Had to set a few to rights. When I got to checking if all my parts were still attached, I realized I'd dropped my cigarette case."
[75] Player: "Why didn't you go back and get it?"
[77] Player: "I know where this is going. You're "busy," but if I fetched it, you'd pay for my trouble. Right?"
[83] Lillian (Female): "When I turned about, I seen two fine gunhands being snacked on by lizards. No cigarette case is worth my life. No matter how badly I need a smoke."
[81] Lillian (Female): "I look busy to you? It's surrounded by pissed-off raptidons. My mama didn't raise no dumbasses."
[82] Lillian (Female): "This was a Spacer's Choice commemorative case. Some promo for Founding Day they did back in... I forget the year. Worth decent bits to collectors."
[86] Player: "Where did you lose your cigarettes?"
[87] Lillian (Female): "An outdoor raptidon pen yonder, past the main entrance. Law only knows why they're breeding the damn things."
[88] Player: "Let's say I manage to nab it. You willing to pay to get it back?"
[89] Lillian (Female): "Well you'd sure as hell have earned it, wouldn't you?"
[46] Player: "I'll come around if I can get hold of it."
[99] Player: "You don't actually expect me to fetch it. Do you?"
[100] Lillian (Female): "Good Law, no. Just needed to vent, and you're the only one hereabouts."
[101] Lillian (Female): "Though if you do happen to get a hold of it, I'll be setting here a spell."
[124] Player: "I'll take my leave, then."
[126] Player: "On second thought, it wouldn't hurt to at least look into it. I'll let you know if I can get a hold of it."
[106] Lillian (Female): "I'd be obliged. Just don't lose any parts trying."
