[138] Anton (Male): "Oh, it's you."
[185] Anton (Male): "As if my thoughts weren't dark enough already. What is it?"
[158] Player: "I found your associate Jameson. He's safe."
[159] Player: "I have unfortunate news, your associate, Jameson, is dead."
[195] Player: "I suppose I'll be going. Goodbye."
[266] Anton (Male): "That is wonderful news, I'd feared the worst. "
[302] Anton (Male): "Jameson. I didn't do right by him, did I? Only cared about how he helped or hurt my research. "
[317] Player: "It's good to hear your employees actually mean more to you than your research. "
[448] Player: "You know, there's more to care about than black marks and paperwork. "
[434] Player: "You really didn't care about him at all, though, did you? It's all about your ambition."
[785] Player: "That's not really for me to say, Anton. I'll be off now."
[400] Anton (Male): "Of course they do. Please don't mistake my ambition for callousness."
[579] Anton (Male): "Not in this colony, there isn't. But success here will get me to Byzantium. I'll have recognition, money, proper facilities. It's the only place to lead a life of meaning in this system."
[435] Anton (Male): "You understand nothing. Me least of all."
[397] Player: "You must see how one could do exactly that, can't you?"
[294] Player: "What should I mistake it for, compassion?"
[300] Player: "I stand corrected. I'll be off now."
[447] Player: "I suppose it's none of my business. Goodbye."
[402] Anton (Male): "It's just that their constant complaining can begin to wear. They refuse to see the opportunity afforded us here. It's infuriating."
[295] Anton (Male): "If my colleagues refuse to take their lives seriously, why should I? All they do is complain. They refuse to see the opportunity afforded us here."
[403] Player: "You really are an insufferable jackass."
[296] Player: "Just wanted to hear you admit that you're a heartless bastard. Thanks."
[398] Player: "You can see why people might think you're callous, though, can't you?"
[297] Anton (Male): "Believe what you will, but I'm not the manipulative, ego driven person you think me to be. I'm not."
[406] Anton (Male): "I understand I can come off as manipulative and ego driven. It's something I've always been forced to contend with."
[687] Player: "You just keep telling yourself that."
[298] Player: "I guess I'll just have to take your word for it."
[301] Player: "You make a good point. Good day to you, sir."
