[408] CassandraOMalley (Female): "Please tell me you've cleared a way out of here."
[409] Player: "I've got the key, I'm going to let you out."
[344] Player: "I've unlocked your cell and dealt with the guards. You'll have to fend for yourself against the rapts."
[150] CassandraOMalley (Female): "So you have! I am much obliged."
[245] CassandraOMalley (Female): "And now, if you do not mind, I have had quite enough of this wretched place."
[151] Player: "I'm going to need you to turn over that research."
[154] CassandraOMalley (Female): "Oh really? And why, pray tell, would I do a thing like that?"
[156] Player: "The situation's liable to turn ugly if you don't."
[157] Player: "Because you don't want a price on your head."
[256] Player: "How should I know? Because you want to do the right thing?"
[163] CassandraOMalley (Female): "Don't give me that look. You have made your point clear enough."
[165] CassandraOMalley (Female): "Your point is well taken. I would rather not spend the rest of my days looking over my shoulder for the shadow of my headhunter."
[166] CassandraOMalley (Female): "Do I? No, I do not think I do. This research was hard-won, and I plan on enjoying every bit I make off its sale."
[247] CassandraOMalley (Female): "Here, take the damned research. Tell Crane I hope he chokes on it."
[319] CassandraOMalley (Female): "I am not ungrateful for your help. You saved my life. I believe I owe you a drink or two."
[152] Player: "I didn't save your life for free."
[321] Player: "<Attack> I never should have helped you. I'm taking that research."
[192] CassandraOMalley (Female): "Good. I never trust a freelancer who works for free."