[3] CatherineMalin (Female): "How's Clive? I do hope you gave him my regards."
[22] Player: "Got a proposition for you... from Clive."
[351] Player: "I'll get back to you on that."
[134] CatherineMalin (Female): "Oh, this oughta be good."
[349] Player: "Let's talk about something else."
[24] CatherineMalin (Female): "What does he mean to offer in exchange for his no-account life?"
[350] CatherineMalin (Female): "Sure."
[25] Player: "Clive is willing to be your cleaner if you leave the factory to him. "
[26] Player: "Who better to handle the cleaning than Clive? The SubLight idiots mucking it up now?"
[32] CatherineMalin (Female): "True enough, I got bodies piling up, drawing attention where they ought not to be."
[30] CatherineMalin (Female): "Point taken. Good help is hard to come by. Plus, Clive doesn't seem the type to upchuck his boarst during dismemberment."
[136] CatherineMalin (Female): "But if I take the factory, I don't need Clive to dispense of my messes. Can appoint someone to handle it myself."
[139] CatherineMalin (Female): "Still, you're asking me to walk away from easy money."
[138] Player: "Running a factory is hard, tedious work. "
[166] CatherineMalin (Female): "So are a lot of things in life. And your point is?"
[168] Player: "Why not leave the headache to someone else?"
[167] Player: "Clive is offering a cut of the profits and free body disposal every Tuesday, 3 a.m."
[28] Player: "Never mind."
[140] CatherineMalin (Female): "All right. Color me convinced."
[33] CatherineMalin (Female): "Reckon I owe you a finders fee. Don't spend it all in one place - unless it's here."
[29] CatherineMalin (Female): "Tell Clive I don't haggle. Right as you gut him."
[86] CatherineMalin (Female): "Well? I'm half-listening."
[8] Player: "That's enough for now."
