Introduction

Welcome to the 6th Workshop on Narrative Understanding!

This is the 6th iteration of the workshop, which brings together an interdisciplinary group of researchers to discuss methods to improve automatic narrative understanding capabilities. We are happy to present 9 papers on this topic (along with 11 non-archival papers to be presented only at the workshop).

We would like to thank everyone who submitted their work to the workshop and the program committee for their helpful feedback. We would also like to thank our invited speakers for their participation in this workshop.
