TRANSLATION ON COMPUSERVE

Since 10 July, US translation company TII Translation Services has been offering its services online worldwide via CompuServe's Electronic Mail. CompuServe is the fourth electronic mail system via which TII can be accessed. The others are Western Union's Easylink, Delphi, and ITT's Update.

The company also markets its own range of PC-compatible CAT software, the Translating Word Processor (TWP). And four new languages are being added to it, says general manager Tim Rowe – Portuguese, Italian, Dutch, and Chinese.

TII Translation Services, which recently moved from Vienna to Fairfax, both in Virginia, is a subsidiary of Infotechnology Inc., a diversified information services company based in New York City.
